Christmas Concerts in Old Montreal

Montreal, October 28, 2015 – From December 5 to 20, the magnificent Notre-Dame-de-Bon-Secours Chapel will be filled with the strains of the loveliest Christmas carols.

For Jean-Pierre Brunet, director of Ensemble Da Capo, “Montreal's oldest chapel creates a peaceful and warm atmosphere that makes audiences feel the enchantment of Christmas, not to mention this vibrant cultural institution’s exceptional acoustics.”

The Les choralies concert series, presented at 1:30 and 3 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays from December 5 to 20, will inspire you with all the magic of the holiday season. The closing concert, with Ensemble Da Capo, will be on Sunday, December 20, at 8 p.m.

This year we’ll have some new choirs with a variety of repertoires and sounds. We hope you’ll join us and encourage them as they take part in our concert series for the first time!
